Since vitamin C is plantaine in fruits and vegetables (an average orange has 70 mg), supplements are rarely needed (many multivitamins also contain the recommended quantity). More information about vitamin C. C. This skyscraper of lacticini plays a role in the constraint and relaxation of the blood vessels, which is why experts believe that it helps to maintain low blood pressure. Most multivitamins do not provide the complete quantity which is recommended (1,000 mg per day for women of Etá 50 and lower; 1,200 mg per day for women 51 and more elderly), and it is difficult to get enough from your diet Unless you eat more dairy products is needed per day, then consider a separate calcium supplement. More on football. > Magnesium: help your blood constantly circulate; Inadequate levels are connected to high pressure. It is difficult to get enough of this nourishing of power alone food, therefore looking for a multitamin that contains the recommended quantity of 320 mg. More on magnesium. > Coenzyme Q10: This antioxidant, found in meat, chicken and fish, helps to dilate blood vessels, which can keep BP at a healthy level. It is difficult to reach the levels used in the studies alone diet, then talk to the doctor about taking a separate supplement. More information about Coq10. > Garlic: Italian food lovers rejoice! This bulb wonder contains more than 70 active vegetable chemicals, including Alicin, which many studies have shown decreases the high pressure of over 30 points. It is possible to collect the bp-gathering benefits if you eat a couple of wedges per day; If you don't can or do not want to eat so much, speak with the doctor to try a separate supplement. More on the garlic. High blood pressure is one of the most preventive conditions around, but more than 73 million Americans have it, and the condition plays a role in about 15% of the deaths in the United States. What exactly is BP? The first, higher number (110 or 130, let's say) is the systolic pressure that the 08/021 08/021 a angniunas enoisserp al erenetto id adnamoccar erouc led etulas al rep adiug eenil elled etrap roiggam aL .ittitab art asopir erouc li odnaug etretra ellen acilotsaid enoisserp al 7 Á Joipmese rep .09 o 27(eroirefni oreemun .odnoscs II .oproc ortsov led otser la eugnas li apmop odnaug areneg erouc lower; any thing between that and 139/89 is considered pre-hypertension and any reading of 140/90 or greater is considered hypertension. The high BP is a big problem because the condition puts a dangerous stress level on the blood vessels. This stress makes it easier for the "bad" LDL cholesterol particles to penetrate into the inner lining of the walls of your ship, where they accumulate and form the plaque that ultimately leads to heart attack and stroke. High blood pressure increases the risks of killer leaders such as heart attack and stroke, as well as aneurysms, cognitive decline and kidney failure. Haven't you checked yours for the past two years? Look at a doctor. Fortunately, most people with high blood pressure can lower without medication. Start with lifestyles corrections such as exercise regularly, keeping a healthy weight, not smoking, managing stress and eating a low sodium diet that is rich in fruits, vegetables, whole grains and low-fat dairy products. If you have those bases covered, some vitamins, minerals and supplements can help slightly: This content is created and maintained by a third party, and imported on this page to help users provide their email addresses.
